RE: July 7th Perinatal Mood Disorders: Diagnosis, Treatment & Referral Grand Rounds

Attention: Primary Care, Pediatric, and Maternal Health Providers the Texas Department of State Health Services (DSHS) Grand Rounds Series is hosting a live webinar focusing on perinatal mood disorders.

DSHS Grand Rounds is designed to expand understanding of the science and evidence-based practice of population health. Each session focuses on key challenges related to a specific health topic, and explores cutting-edge scientific evidence and potential impact of different interventions.

Continuing Education credits/contact hours for multiple disciplines are awarded for attendance.

Perinatal Mood Disorders: Diagnosis, Treatment & Referral
July 7 from 11 a.m.-12:30 p.m.
Presented by Sarah Wakefield, M.D., Texas Tech University Health Center

This presentation will focus on the diagnosis and treatment of common perinatal mood disorders. This will include:

- Prevention
- non-pharmacological interventions and pharmacological interventions, including medications safe during pregnancy and lactation.
- information about prescribing medications for perinatal mood disorders by primary care providers and obstetricians, and appropriate referrals
